Mickey and Gang to Amuse Standard Union Readers

Hey, folks! There's a new gang of kids just moved into this neighborhood.

No one has been able to pick a fight with any of them yet to find out all about them, but the cop on the block told everyone something. Cops make it a business to find out all about new people moving into neighborhoods.

The best that can be learned is that Sam Iger has moved into The Standard Union Comic Page and has brought his kids along. They are Mickey and His Gang, including Mickey, Tubby, Snooky and Elinore.

"Mickey and His Gang" will do their stuff every day beginning Monday, Nov. 19. From time to time grown-ups, like mothers, fathers, cops, school teachers and letter carriers will crowd into the picture . . . . but "Mickey and His Gang" will be the chief mischief makers in Iger's daily strip.

Watch for it beginning Monday. It'll be fun for the youngsters and will bring back fond memories to the oldsters.

MICKEY— He Stole the Drum and Beat It —By Dick Kennedy

LOOK MIKE, THERE'S HOBO PETE THE PICK-POCKET
I'M GONNA PINCH HIM RIGHT AWAY—
AW MIKE, HE'LL REFORM. GIVE HIM A CHANCE. BRING HIM DOWN TO THE SALVATION ARMY—
I TOOK HIM DOWN THERE LAST NIGHT AN' HE STOLE THE BASS DRUM—

MICKEY— Mr. Fluke's Error —By Dick Kennedy

WHY THE ROPE AROUND YOUR FINGER, MICKEY ? ? ? ? ?
MR FLUKE MADE ME TIE THAT TO MY FINGER SO I WOULDN'T FORGET TO MAIL A LETTER —
AN' DID YOU MAIL THE LETTER ?
NAW! HE FERGOT TO GIVE IT TO ME —
